Bergara B14 BMP .308 Although there are many rifles on the market today, Bergara wanted to focus on one thing: quality. Our B-14 rifles were inspired by the desire to bring the quality that Bergara was known for in the custom rifle world to production rifles made for all hunters. In the B-14 rifle, you will find a level of craftsmanship that surpasses all of the other production hunting rifles on the market. The B-14 BMP rifle features Bergara's BMP Chassis Stock that is built for versatility and precision. The Bergara Match Precision rifle is built to offer a competition shooter's ideal rifle at an affordable price. The stock features a fully adjustable butt stock for comfort. Built in Spain at our highly automated and efficient barrel factory, this rifle delivers a level of quality and performance that is unmatched in its price range. The world-renowned Bergara barrel on this long range precision rifle is complemented by the super-smooth B-14 Action, which is a two-lug system with a Sako-style extractor and a coned bolt nose and breech to ensure a smooth feeding and extraction of the cartridge. It's also outfitted with a Bergara curved trigger designed to guarantee a crisp, clean pull every time you fire the rifle. The trigger comes set at about three pounds. It has been factory drilled and tapped to fit Remington 700 style rings and bases. A 5-round AICS detachable magazine is standard with the BMP rifle. QD flush cups are included in the stock to allow for easy attachment and detachment of slings. The barrel includes a barrel nut to allow for easy barrel changes, making re-barreling more efficient.
